Third Body Type Discovered:
The Hypersensitive Constitution

by Carol R. Keppler, B.S., Ed.

Over the past few years an interesting phenomenon has presented itself; the person who, no matter what health therapy used and despite sometimes years of working on their health issues, never responds. We believed that because they were “sensitive” they must be environmentally ill – true in a few cases but not all.

We already had discovered that there were two body types, the strong body type enjoyed by 90% of the population, and the compromised body type with constitutions not as hardy. But this was very different. When we first met “Pat”, I did an intuited energy scan to discover any blocks in cellular energy. I was sure we could help her – no problem. For years she had tried dozens of doctors, then natural therapies when the drugs and eleven surgeries failed to get her well (surprise, surprise). The fact was, no one had been able to find the “root cause” of her misery. She joked about it telling us what she wanted written on her tombstone – “See, I told you I was sick!”

It soon became obvious that we had a third body type – a person who never feels well even after a lifetime of organic eating. Like “Nancy”. Like “Chris” and her boys who should have had the healthiest family on the east coast!

We needed a name for this long-suffering group that physicians and therapists were dubbing hypochondriacs. We found a definition “advanced physicals” which have a *purer energy body, or matter energy body than the physical races of the single sun planetary system*²; that helped us understand the problems we were seeing were at least partially due to a hypersensitive constitution. So we decided to experiment with energy medicine. Frequency formulas which are water-base and non-allergenic, provided a relief for the Zohars after the complications so many of them had experienced over the years when using herbs, flower essences, homeopathies and who knows how many other remedies; anything and everything they had tried had caused reactions – or not worked at all!

In 2005 we came upon a book written by Elaine Aron, Ph.D., The Highly Sensitive Person. Dr. Aron has a network of HSPs worldwide. I talked with her by phone about this phenomenon, which she had researched because she herself is what she terms a Highly Sensitive Person. She said she felt she was healthy because as an HSP she was “able to recognize illness early enough to prevent full blown health challenges.” This was obviously another level of Zohar, the highly sensitive body type who is basically healthy. Through intuited research three other Zohar subsets have been discovered, the super gifted and talented (Einstein, Beethoven, DaVinci, Tesla and Emanuel Swedenborg); non-verbal/ autistics and some of the best-known psychics (James Van Praagh, John Edwards, Sylvia Browne).

Zohars have some other commonalities; not only can ill health plague them but we’ve heard stories of accidents, disastrous relationships and financial havoc. When asked they often admit to “all the above”. And then there is the “open” or damaged “psychic sheath”, an aura-like shield, in every case, intuited research told us, caused by the emotional trauma at birth.

You Are What You Eat

Kudos to Safeway Markets!

Not long ago the Safeway stores nationwide (aka Vons, Tom Thumb, Randalls, Simon David, Dominicks, Pack and Save, Genuardis and Carrs [Alaska]) put the public's interest above their own in posting notice at their meat counters about the danger of mercury in fish. We applaud their integrity.

Now we've discovered they carry a line of foods that rate a "10+!" It's called O™ Organics—high frequency foods including cereals (except for the frosted flakes and multi-grain colored cereal), olive oil, canned tomatoes and beans, salad dressing, crackers, vegetable and chicken broth, packaged chicken breasts, frozen fruit and fresh greens and more. The soy milk, unfortunately didn't make the list nor did the O™ chips or the bread.

It's getting more and more difficult to find high frequency foods—non-irradiated, non-hybrid produce and of course boxed and canned foods with any vital life left in them. In 2006, in America, cancer hits one in two people whose cells have lost the power to self-repair. Why? The Subtle Organized Energy Field (SOEF) of, so called, "fresh" fruit and vegetables, was unavailable due to the use of hybrid seeds or irradiation for longer shelf life leaving no frequencies to feed the cells. Unfortunately there is no other way for the cells to be fed; no frequencies, no repair/regeneration.

So what happens after 10 or 20 more years of eating lifeless (or toxic) foods? The scientists haven't thought about that one yet but my intuition is that we've already lost the war on disease unless we begin today to demand real foods from our supermarkets. Make your voice heard; I recently switched markets and told both managers why.

Slim For Life

Over Eating: Are Malfunctioning Cells Making You Eat Too Much?

We've been bombarded with media images of overweight Americans—we get it! The question is still "Why"? Blame has been put on the super portions of our restaurants and of course the calorie-loaded fare they dole out.

But the root-cause of this phenomenon may be what was written a few years back in "Longevity Magazine" as "vitaminless food"¹. What happens when your 75 trillion cells can't get the frequencies they need from the food you eat to provide the energy for moving or even thinking? Some of us have been there.

What you may not have considered is that the low frequency (or no frequency) foods you are eating may be making you fat!

When you feed your cells low or no-frequency food, the cells eventually weaken and die. The body's survival system, however, will first jump in to tell you to eat more. And more! So what are you getting from the plethora of (fake) foods at your local market? Unfortunately plenty of calories to assuage the hunger pangs, but no nutrition. And all the while your cells are screaming for (real) food to stay alive. So you eat more calories. And you get fat.

Now there is another answer to the "over eating syndrome"; keep your cells functioning properly by feeding them the life-giving foods they were designed to process so you can stay slim-for-life.

Third Body Type Discovered: The Hypersensitive Constitution

One of the functions of the sheath is *“the protection of human beings from interference in their lives by earthbound spirits”*³.

Because of their access to information from the “other side”, Zohars may experience the challenge of “mind chatter” with the autistic child subset self-absorbed with this inner world.

The super gifted and talented subset is another story. They can find themselves in much the same situation; brilliant scientists or artists, lost in their work, may find it difficult to connect with society because they are caught in an amazing stream of information from the “other side”.

Psychics fall into this category as they read the future, the past or present to the delight of many and a boding fear of others. Although there will always be nay-sayers, intuited research once again confirms that true psychics are Zohars who have an “open” psychic sheath with “angel guides” to retrieve information that could not otherwise be known.

Can others than Zohars have “open” psychic sheaths? Absolutely! Anyone who is having thoughts, feelings or emotions that seem not their own could have damage caused by the same things that play havoc with the Repair Loop / Immune System: body or emotional trauma, synthetic toxins or chaotic electric overload⁴.

Through the struggles of the Zohars we’ve literally learned a book full. Coming upon our radar screen around 1999, their determination to be well is unbeatable. Zohars have been called “needy”, “unresponsive” or “incurable”. We have learned that true Zohars have had many lifetimes of early deaths and suicides according to Zohar intuitive Luella Reid-Earley, a brilliant and well-respected healer on the east coast. We fully understand why some would decide to leave; who would want to live like this?

The more we learned about the Zohar beings of light, the better we understood the block walls we kept hitting in finding answers, not only in regard to their health but often every aspect of their lives; the difficulties they faced throughout their lives seemed to them almost a “dark energy”.

It’s interesting to note that so many of them believe they have a special soul’s purpose that has to do with helping their fellow man. Accomplishing their missions has been, for most, nearly impossible because of “interference” which has forced many of them into a survival mode of mere existence.

Because of the quantum nature of energy medicine, we have been fortunate to be able to find literally thousands of the frequencies needed for the cellular cleansing and subsequent repair or regeneration of the hyper-sensitive Zohar body. We are committed to their healing and feel that we are getting ever closer with the help of energy medicine.

As for the many Zohars who have been involved in this project, we recognize their dedication to wellness as a powerful first step in the healing of the planet. We’re so proud to have been chosen to be part of this remarkable journey and pray that, what certainly appears to be a Master Plan, will soon be fulfilled.

The Saga of a Rescued Kitten

“Until one has loved an animal, a part of one’s soul remains unawakened.”
— Anonymous

I finally found my kitten—it took weeks of searching for a long-haired cream and brown Himalayan like the first AngelPuss who left us in 2000 after being with me for 19 years. So here she was “AngelPuss Too”, peering at me through the glass at the Humane Society—a scrawny little short-haired black kitten with big golden eyes that were running as was her nose, Oh, yes, I almost forgot the little sneezes and coughs. I know why she was there—no one wanted her!

She weighed in at one pound, a desperate situation said the vet, who offered the solution, an antibiotic and L-Lysine for the mouth (that part was good).

Once home she didn’t eat, drink or groom herself. The free vet’s visit, gave me the answer. Not only did she have an upper respiration infection but she had blisters on her tongue and the roof of her mouth—she couldn’t eat.

I told her we’d do it with “energy medicine”. Three days later AngelPuss began eating. In fact, despite being syringe fed, she was so starved that one day she climbed up my husband’s back while he was eating lunch, and jumped on to the table to eat off his plate.

There’s more to the story of this now fat and furry purr-box who delights in rolling and tumbling with Ruffles, the Schnauzer. But that will have to wait for another day (and more space).

*Sashua, the dog with the kidney stones—the owner took her to the vet for a checkup and she has no more kidney stones....amazing.

*Toby, a 10 year old Maltese, had an ACL injury last year. We treated it homeopathically and energetically but at times he would still favor that leg. This week I have noticed he is jumping up on the furniture again without the aid of a step, he is literally tearing around the house as if he never had leg problems.

I started taking your InTheZone™ formula Friday. After a few days I noticed that something that had been bothering me seemed to be gone. I had been “spacing out” for very short periods of time while watching TV. I hadn’t fallen asleep, but just “tuned out”. Repeatedly. After a few days on your InTheZone™ I noticed that this was not happening any more. Hallelujah!!!. Then yesterday — the realization came over me that I was not exhausted as I had been for months any time after late morning. I am so pleased with the results of your InTheZone™ formula. And my week isn’t even up yet!

I noticed recently that I was storing a lot of uneven feelings towards others. I could not let “injustices” go and seemed to have a lot of pent up angry feelings. After your new “additions” just even for one day so far, I feel much more content and clear and happy. It was difficult for me to reach a higher self via meditation or tai chi. Now I feel my mind and body are in a constant state of elevation. I feel as if I have reached my full potential...a completely new phase for me. I am just beginning my new journey, without all of the “stuff” that was anchoring me down.
